The gentleman who writes us finding fault that we publish the same articles in more than one paper leas wasted his postage. His only remedy is to take but one of them. The saving of expense is indeed a consideration with us, but the saving of Editerial labor is still more so. We have not physical power of enderance to write one hour a day more than we now do, how, then, can he ask us to double the amount of our toil? Beside, what is the need of it? We employ the amount of our toil? Beside, what is the need of it? We employ the about and well-informed Correspondent at Washington, who gives an able and well-informed Correspondent at Washington, who gives us a daily account of the doings in Congress; would be have us hire us a daily account of the doings in Congress; would be have us hire another or make up a different necount for our weekly papers! So of our Foreign News; which is first published hastily and at length of our Daily, then carefully winnowed and condensed for our Weeklies. What clse would be have? Man, be reasonable.

To "A Merchant of New-York" will appear soon, if development Washington do not render it unadvisable.

RELIEF .- The Sun is vastly astonished that the " sens less talk " about the " relief of the country " was not hushed as soon as the Election was over. It implies that the Whige should have kicked 'Relief' to Guinea as the Loco-Focos did 'Retrenchment' when they got into power. But The Sun has no right to measure our corn in its own bushel. A large majority of the People have earnestly believed and still believe that the Government can do something for the relief of the People. And that The Sun may not continue to misrepresent us, we will state succinctly how much and what relief from the action of the Federal Government we desire and look for:

I. The Government may afford 'relief' to the Country by calling into existence a practical Currency of nearly uniform value throughout the Union. At present, and for some years past, a subscriber in Arkansas, Illinois, or even Ohio, who tries to pay us for our newspaper must either subject himself or us to the loss of a considerable per centage on the amoun remitted. This disparity of Currency is injurious in many ways: it taxes those who exchange commodities or products, and discourages others from trading. With an Uniform Curroncy, two men in Kentucky or Tennessee would take a New-York paper where one new does-and so in other sections and in regard to other exchanges. From this injurious, or pressive disparity the People desire 'relief.' They know there was once a better state of things; why may there no

II. As with the Currency, so with the Exchanges proper We are aware that it is said all the difficulty is caused by the Suspension of Specie Payments, and if they were resumed. all would be right. But, apart from the fact that Specie Payments seem unlikely to be ever resumed without some postive action of the Federal Government-Loco-Foco Alabama and Arkansas having suspended eternally-we know that this pretence is fallacious. The Exchanges fell inte disorder before the Suspension. So now, Missouri professes to pay Specie, and yet Exchange on St. Louis is at 10 per cent .--a friend of ours has now a Government draft o the Sub-Treasury at St. Louis for money due kim-a good Specie draft in that City-but here he cannot sell it for more than 92 cents on the dollar. Up to the day Gen, Jackson removed the Deposites, he could have sold it here for a least 99 cents on the dollar. . Here 'relief' is wanted.

III. The great Producing Interests want 'relief' from rulnously low prices. We do not want high prices -but we want such a state of things that Produce will bring a living price, and in cash, if needed. This season, Corn has been sold under execution in Missouri at three cents a bushel. Last winter and spring, many loads of agricultural produce were brought less than fifty miles into Peoria and other Western villages to sell, for which the producers could not get money enough to pay their traveling expenses to market and back. Excellent times these, says The Sun. "The country needs no relief; it is doing well, and the true policy is to let well alene." By your leave, gentlemen, we do not believe such a Currency as this country is now cursed withand will be cursed with, so long as its control is left to the State Legislatures-is to be so quietly endured; nor do we think such prices as we have quoted the signs of true pros-

IV. The Country needs a Distribution of the Proceeds +1 the Public Lands for the 'relief' of the States, who are the rightful proprietors; but still more, to check the unhallowed spirit of plunder evinced by Beston and Co. who are determined by prodigal Preemptions, Graduations and Cessions, aided by the bartering of Western Presidential votes for Eastern support to these schemes, to deprive the Old States of their rightful isterest in the Public Domain. More on this head hereafter.

V. The unfortunate and embarras which would be afforded by a General Bankrupt Law. This The Sun gradgingly concedes, but neutralizes the concession as much as possible, and pronounces this a measure of in dividual' and not National relief. We think differently Take off the chains which now bind to the earth the five hundred thousand victims of Gen. Jackson's Experiment and their ewn adventurous temerity, and you relieve not them so many prisoners of war, or captives from Algerine Slave v It would infuse new life-blood into the veins of the body politie. Such are our opinions: we rejoice in believing that they are those of a majority of the American People.

The Albany Argus truly observes: "RETERRED MENT is what is needed for the relief of the Country: a deficiency of several millions may be provided for in this way.

True, fair sirs; but why did you never think of this whi your party were is power! Why did your party allow their own Collecter at this port $50,000 per annum, their Marshal. District Attorney and Post Master $30,000 each, and the moment they found they must lose their posts, cut their Whig successors down to $6,000 and $5,000? Was not this particularly masty in you, though right as respects the officers? And do you not cut a pretty figure clamoring for Retrenchment now, when your party got in power twelve years ago by such clamor, spent twice as much in their twelve years as the whole expenditures (payment of public debt excluded) of the same period preceding? And now you are out of power again, you want Retrenchment do you! Faugh

WYOMING .- This new County (formed from Genesce) has elected an entire Whig ticket of County Officers by a majority of 300 ever the combined vote of the Loco-Focoand Abelitionists, who joined teams for the occasion. Mr. David Scott is well known at home.

Col. Johnson, late Vice President of the United States has been elected to the Legislature from Scott County, Ky We have seen the above blundering paragraph in half r dozen papers-The Sun and Journal of Commerce lost. STRANGE.-A correspondent of the New-Orleans Picayune says that seven or eight dead bodies had been picked up in the river near Ibersville, within a few days. They were dressed like steamboat hands.

We believe there is a growing disposition an al fraternity, as well as the public generally, to learn to hat To all such as desire to know what Homotopathy is, we heartily commend the work of Dr. Hall-a thoroughly edu cated physician of the old school, but converted to Hahnenann's system by subsequent study and reflection, and strengthened in the faith by much experience. European observation, and extensive practice. There is nothing dogmatic or obscure in the 'Examiner,' and we believe the most inveterate opposer of its doctrines will peruse it with interest and profit.

We have hitherto had repeated occasion to commend the works of 'Peter Parley' to the favorable consideration of the guardians and instructers of Youth. To children the selves they need nothing but an introduction. Familiar, livestory with the graver interest of historical or scientific truth The maps and engravings interspersed are pertinent in design, though not always superior in execution. The great popularity of the 'Parley' series precludes the necessity of a more extended notice. The work before as consists of two volumes of 380 pages, neatly bound un together
